McNees GR Welcomes Mason Kasprack to Harrisburg Team

HARRISBURG, Pa. – McNees Government Relations (McNees GR) today announced the addition of Mason Kasprack to the firm's Harrisburg team.

Kasprack joins McNees GR as a government affairs specialist, bringing experience in constituent services, public affairs and grassroots advocacy. He will support McNees GR clients through legislative monitoring, policy research and tracking committee activity at the Pennsylvania State Capitol.

"Mason will be an outstanding contributor to McNees GR's efforts," said McNees GR President Drew Crompton. "His enthusiasm for government, strong work ethic and ability to quickly understand complex policy issues will be valuable assets to both our team and our clients."

Prior to joining McNees GR, Kasprack worked in public affairs, supporting clients in the oil and gas industry, leading grassroots engagement initiatives and building advocacy networks. He began his professional career as an intern in the U.S. House of Representatives, assisting with constituent services while gaining firsthand insight into the legislative process and federal policymaking.

Kasprack earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Washington & Jefferson College, where he also was a member of the football team. Originally from the Pittsburgh region, he currently resides in Dillsburg, York County.

McNees GR is a regional full-service government affairs and grassroots advocacy firm, offering a broad spectrum of government relations solutions for clients, including grassroots advocacy and coalition development, business and real estate development, government funding, state and local government relations, community relations, public policy and public affairs.
